When Discipline Isn't Necessary

OFF THE TOP

by Eric Scott Stevens

Luke is my bottom. Recently, I made a rare Thursday night visit to Luke's home. He had nothing to do but his workout that evening, so I decided that we would go to a movie when he was finished. After the movie, I planned to put a collar around Luke's neck, cuff his wrists together, put on a latex glove, and then—with plenty of lube—work my hand deep inside him. I had a raging hard-on by the time I arrived.

After I let myself in, Luke informed me that there had been a change of plans; we would not be going to the movie. There was no respectful, "Sir, may we change the plans for tonight?" He simply told me that we would be doing something different.

Most of you would expect to be told that within minutes I was beating Luke's naked ass with my belt. That is not what happened. Actually, I would have been tempted to blister his butt with the leather-covered paddle that he keeps in the stand next to his bed if he had asked permission to change our plans.

If Luke had simply informed me that he had decided to invite other leathermen over, go to a restaurant instead of the movies, or spend the entire evening at home, some sort of punishment would have been in order. But Luke altered our plans without my permission because he wanted to attend an Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) meeting.

One of the rules that gives our relationship strength is that Luke is forbidden to ask permission to attend AA meetings. Luke does attend certain AA meetings on a regular basis; but, regardless of what our plans are, if he wants to attend an extra meeting or spontaneously participate in some AA-related function, he tells me his decision. I have no right to veto anything that involves AA.

As a top, I like to think that I know what is best for my boy. I like to think that I will always be able to take care of him. This is especially true because I have written four books and numerous articles on addiction, and I have over 11 years of uninterrupted sobriety. I have sponsored guys in AA and have hopefully given them good direction on how to remain sober. But eight years of participation in Al-Anon have taught me that I cannot be both a sexual top and an AA sponsor for Luke.

Although I would like to believe that I know what is best for my boy in terms of his sobriety, I am smart enough to realize that my ego would eventually get in the way. It would be too easy for me to decide that Luke really doesn't need an extra meeting when, in fact, I am really more interested in my own comfort and pleasure. I was not pleased to learn that the movie followed by a stimulating sexual escapade was no longer in the plans, yet I also knew that what Luke does to maintain his sobriety is in my best interest as well as his own.

First, sober sex is safer sex. As Bert Herrman explains in Trust, his excellent handbook on handballing, "The bottom has a responsibility to the top to let the top know if the action is becoming painful or if it even feels like it's going to be painful." In scenes where pain is appropriate, it is important for the bottom to know his boundaries and to use the safe word if things get too intense. However, alcohol and other drugs dull pain and make it more difficult for the bottom to judge if something is going wrong. I would not enter into a scene with a drunk bottom. So if Luke goes back to drinking, it is likely that our sex life would quickly end. I didn't get laid the night Luke changed our plans so he could attend a meeting but, because he attends his meetings, our sex life can continue.

Second, I find that since I stopped drinking, active alcoholics are not much fun to be around. Personally, I adore a strong bottom. Knowing that Luke is a strong, successful businessman makes the vulnerability he shares when we are in bed together all the more desirable. Were he to return to drinking, Luke would not be nearly as strong and successful. And, as a result, he would lose most of his appeal.

Finally, active alcoholics have difficulty with trust. During his using days, Luke tended to trust the wrong people. Eventually, he decided that no one was trustworthy. Joining AA and gaining a new way of life has allowed him to realize that there are people who are not interested in taking advantage of his body; that there are people who feel privileged that he would choose to share his body with them. Too many people believe that sex is not possible without drugs and alcohol. But Luke has found, as I did when I sobered up, that sex is even better.

I was the first person who fisted Luke. I am sure that this would not have happened if he was not sober. He would not have been able to trust me enough. And because of his lack of trust, he would not have been able to relax enough to take a hand up his ass.

At times, it does get frustrating that Luke needs to attend so many AA meetings. It is frustrating when our plans change so he can attend another one. But I know that my frustrations would only increase if he went back to drinking. By respecting Luke's higher power, I keep my own power over him and make my mastery of my boy stronger and more secure. ■

Although Dr. Stevens has been active in the gay-rights movement for over 16 years, the AA/Al-Anon tradition of anonymity requires a pseudonym for this article.

"Off the Top" is an editorial opinion piece. It serves as a community forum about a variety of controversial issues. The viewpoints and information shared are those of the author, and do not necessarily reflect the editorial position of Drummer magazine.

MALE CALL

Dear Sir:

What's with all those weird collages that accompanied Matthew Walker's even weirder story, "A Tame Animal" (Issue 174)? Your readers don't pick up this magazine to get a tour through a modern art museum. Now, Rick Castro's "Bound for Glory" photographs, that's more like it. Give us down-and-dirty, straightforward stuff we can jack off to, not this artsy crap.

C.J.

New York, NY

Dear C.J.:

We are experimenting with many new designs in Drummer. Some of them are, obviously, not to everybody's taste. But we hope there will be something in every issue that will pique your interest (and make your dick hard).

MJW

Dear Sir:

As a man who is proud to be African-American and a member of the leather community, I often feel invisible. Thank you for putting Graylin Thornton on the cover of Drummer 174. His "Off the Top" was a welcome change. He summarizes perfectly the things I've often tried to explain to other African-American men who do not understand the appeal of bondage or master/slave roleplaying. I'm sure I will be making copies of it and handing it around to all of my friends. It's time for the "mainstream" leather organizations and publications to realize that not all leathermen are white and middle-class. Graylin Thornton's high profile will make that easier.

Memphis, TN

Dear Sir:

I am concerned about the bondage photo which appeared on page 14 of Drummer 173. The man in this photo is in standing bondage with a chain around his neck. He also had a heavy clamp secured to his balls, and the clamp was attached to the wall. Your readers should be aware that it's not uncommon for somebody who is in standing bondage to pass out, if only from the excitement of being in-scene. It's a toss-up whether this model would experience strangulation or castration first if he passed out in this bondage. I know Drummer is primarily for fantasy satisfaction, but some of our more isolated brothers might try to imitate something they see in your pages. Just don't want anybody to get hurt.

G.R.

Atlanta, GA

Dear G.R.:

You are correct. The responsible top should always assess standing bondage by asking himself, "What would happen to my slave if he passed out in this arrangement?" Then the top should eliminate potentially damaging connections between body parts and the wall or floor. Panic snaps can be released even with a heavy weight hanging from the clip. The master would have to lift a couple hundred pounds of dead weight up and over the edge of a double-ended clip or other type of snap to free a bottom who has fainted. So panic snaps should be used as the quick-release centerpiece for any standing bondage.

Fainting can be prevented by making sure the bottom has had some protein before play, avoiding the use of alcohol or poppers, keeping the upper arms at shoulder level instead of straight up over the head, and preventing the bottom from hyper-ventilating or locking his knees. But somebody can get woozy even under ideal circumstances. Thanks for reminding us all to be prepared.

MJW

Dear Sir:

Last week I bought Drummer 172, and I very much admired the photographs of Paolo. I thought your other readers might like to know that Paolo also appears (under another name) in the second episode of Kristen Bjorn's video "Jungle Heat." Paolo and his senior leader and a younger man are presented as military men deep in the rain forest. There are nine cum-shots in the 24-minute episode, so you can imagine how hot it is. Rent or buy "Jungle Heat." It's worth it! And keep sending us more photos of hardbodied real men like this "famous Brazilian soccer player."

B.R.

Tiburon, CA

Dear Sir:

Would it ever be possible for you to run a photo of Dyrk, who writes your review column? Anybody who has the time to look at (and comment intelligently upon) that much smut must be "down and dirty" in his personal life as well. Is Dyrk a top or a bottom? Would he like to be chained to my bed? And forced to lick my furry butt? Then spanked until his butt is bright red? Or is he a sadistic intellectual type who canes the shit out of you for using poor grammar, then crams his dick down your throat while he pages through The Utne Reader? I guess it doesn't really matter. Because I am sure I could find something to do that would keep him amused either way! I can't help it, smart boys just make my balls taut.

D.S.

Alberta, Canada

Dear D.S.:

Dyrk prefers to remain a mystery. But he appreciates your flexibility. If you ever write your memoirs, he'll be happy to provide some jacket copy.

Dear Sir:

The David Merrill photo spread in Drummer 173 was one of the most amazing things I've ever seen. Not only did I love his smooth, youthful body (such a pleasant contrast to the gorillas you usually feature),

I found myself immediately getting lost in a heavy-breathing, intense fantasy about all the things I could do to him while he was tied to that motorcycle. He looks like a smartass slut who needs a heavy dose of the belt and thick dick up his butt 24 hours a day. I just wish it could be my belt and my dick that he came crawling and begging to receive! Instead, it was me who wound up salivating, all over the page.

MARCUS

BY MARCUS HERNANDEZ

> GUY BALDWIN AT THE MOMENT HE WAS NAMED INTERNATIONAL MR. LEATHER 1989 IN CHICAGO JUST BEFORE HE MOUNTED THE WINNER'S PLATFORM. DISBELIEF? ISN'T IT ALWAYS THAT WAY FOR THE WINNER?

ONE OF LEATHERDOM'S MOST POPULAR WINNERS, LUKE DANIEL, WON THE THEN MR. DRUMMER TITLE IN 1982 AND THE INTERNATIONAL MR. LEATHER TITLE A FEW MONTHS LATER.

Can anyone who has never been there, imagine what it must feel like to suddenly find yourself standing on a stage with thousands of leathersmen and/or women cheering at the announcement that you have just won a major leather title?

Like any other competition, where aspirants are pitted against each other either in a beauty pageant, a political election, a sporting event or just a do-nothing bar title, the winner has been chosen and for those few moments (whatever the duration) after your elevated status has been announced, human nature being what it is, you are besieged — on the spot — by congratulatory handshakes and hugs, invitations to appear, and a myriad of offers too numerous to even contemplate at the moment.

The axiom "everybody loves a winner" is idealistic in concept. Like countless "winners" of anything, the euphoria may continue throughout the duration of your title year. In some cases, it may, regretfully, be short-lived. From that moment forward, your every move, appearance and action is under scrutiny. You have, by winning, made a commitment to "bottom" to your community and whatever you do is critiqued, criticized, praised or whatever the perception may be from people you don't even know. Sometimes your winning status will mean the demise of your domestic partnership; and sometimes, the person you've always dreamed about becomes your lifelong partner. Sometimes.

But realistically, does everybody really love a winner? The "we'll see how he does" syndrome is usually in place for the majority of reasonable people. Bluntly, "I'll decide after he/she does something."

Usually, within hours after the hall or auditorium is emptied and people are out in the bars or wherever, discussing the outcome, the charges begin to fly. Always, always you'll hear: "It was fixed." "He/she was the former lover of one/some of the judges." "He/she doesn't even own his own leather." Etcetera, ad nauseam. The scoring system in place at most venues is foolproof. This is not to say a contest cannot be fixed; rather, it is almost impossible to do, and therefore those charges are usually a case of sour grapes.

Naturally, everyone has a "favorite" among the competitors. Provincial or regional pride suffers a humiliating blow when "your man" isn't even on the roster of the semifinalists. Sure, Joe Blow may be the hottest thing going in say, Red Oak, Iowa. But Joe Blow is suddenly "Joe Who?" when he goes up against Tom, Dick, or Harry from a major urban/suburban area. This is not to denigrate a man or woman because they don't live on either coast or in a major metropolitan area where larger leather communities exist.

I would like to think — though I have been wrong — that each contestant on the stages of leather competitions wouldn't be there if he/she didn't have some understanding of the lifestyle. Sometimes, that expectation is disappointing. Other times, the man or woman blows your mind with his/her expertise, knowledge and presentation. It's all part of the leather title game. They're all into leather; it's just that some are more "into" it than others. Whatever your observations, it takes bodies to make a competition. And from a production standpoint, "the more the merrier." Win or lose, almost everyone I know who has participated in a major leather competition comes away with a vast amount of information, knowledge and clearer understanding that they've gained by interacting with the other contestants. True and sincere friendships have been established and even a few serious or lifelong relationships have resulted. If you don't learn anything from being a part of it, you weren't really into it at all. It's as simple as that.

Besides being a spokesperson for the leather/SM community, be it on Geraldo, Oprah or Donahue or at a leatherfest or leather gathering, the major leather/SM title holders become a sought-after commodity. Usually for worthy charities. Fundraisers and major leather events demand a "name" and what better draw than a major leather titleholder?

But to get them to your "bailiwick" costs money; the travel fund(s) for major titleholders is not an unlimited one. It gets more sticky when the titleholder is from a foreign country (i.e. not in North America). Air fares alone often diminish the choice of leather personalities. Only rarely are leather communities eager to stage an event to raise money for the travel of major leather icons.

And while titleholders would not demand a fee for appearing, signing autographs, participating in a fantasy, speaking at a panel, or other duties, it is only fitting and proper that the producers provide air/rail fare and accommodations.

Consider the telephone bills, short trips, postage and leather maintenance for a title holder. Winning the title, for some, could be a losing financial situation. In short: it costs a lot to have a title and more than one winner will admit it.

Special demands are negotiable. One major leather titleholder demanded a $3,000 fee for appearing nude for a layout in a major magazine. He was immediately dubbed a "prima donna" for this decision. Winning a title does not automatically guarantee the entire leather/SM/fetish crowd will be titillated by seeing that person au naturel. Many hold professional jobs and the code of ethics of their occupation demands they refrain from such activity. Yeah, I know: why didn't they think of that before they got into it? Who's to say? It could be postulated that being a major leather titleholder means you have to bare it all for general public consumption.

And whenever situations arise that put a major titleholder in the middle of a controversy, no matter how they respond or resolve it, there are always unhappy people bad-mouthing the titleholder. For this reason, whenever a young, on-the-ball leather person asks my opinion on their aspirations to become IML, International Mr. Drummer, Mr. Mid-Atlantic Leather, or any other such title, my initial response is always, always: "Why do you want that?" It can be a satisfying goal for one's ego. The person may be dedicated and altruistic enough in sincerely wanting to become a role model and fundraiser for the many causes we have, but when you're leading a reasonably happy, enjoyable and satisfying leather lifestyle, do you really want to trade it for an entire year of traveling, appearing, doing things you sometimes don't really want to do in the name of charity? Some people take to it like ducks to water, but that is not always the case. If you're willing to take both the glory and fame that comes with a title, and the criticism, bad-mouthing, and other unpleasanties that can also come with it, I say, "Go for it."

Those who are a part of the historical pastiche of the leather community's iconography probably have few regrets from the year they had with the title. Many of them are still around, lecturing, writing, inspiring younger leathermen/women, and are generally still revered and admired. After all, even in the leather/SM community, there is no perfect person.

They either love you or they do not. Either way, no one has ever resigned from the titles they won, voluntarily or involuntarily. Which is more than we can say about some of our non-leather national leaders, gay AND straight! Our pride is our strength. It takes both to be a titleholder with a little ego thrown in for good measure. It is nice to know that a chosen leather titleholder was honored because of what they could do for us. But alongside that, would it not be proper, reasonable, and more importantly, fair to sometimes think, what can we do for him/her? I ran. I won. I tried. I did my best. And the reality, for all of us is either: they love me, they love me not.

It's been barely a month since the 16th International Mr. Leather was chosen in Chicago (Memorial Day Weekend in May), and now everyone's focused on the regional Mr. Drummer contests taking place in various parts of the world.

The first regional Mr. Drummer was chosen in Phoenix, AZ on Saturday, May 7th at the Bum Steer. J&S Productions (Jerry Barnes and Michael "Spike" Frank) coproducing with Pat Sanchez of Albuquerque managed to pull together an event that garnered some 350 people who participated in a weekend that drew Drummer aficionados from Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Wyoming, Utah, California and Texas.

The judges were "Blade," Mr. Southwest Drummer 1993, as Head Judge; Ms. Teri, Ms. Arizona Leather 1990; Michael, Mr. Buffalo Drummer 1993; Dave B., President of the Motorcyclen of Albuquerque; Garrett S., President of the Copperstate Leathermen of Phoenix; Catrina, Ms. Arizona Leather 1991; and Dale, owner of Tuff Stuff Leatherware of Phoenix. Drummer's Derek Yeager and Ms. Theresa of Arizona Power Exchange served as the tally clerks.

In between the leather appearances, fantasies and speeches, the crowd was wowed with entertainment by vocalist Steve Linn. International Mr. Drummer 1993, Graylin Thornton, served as the Master of Ceremonies. When the business at hand was completed and the tallies counted, a 20-year veteran of the leather/SM lifestyle, Bob Michaels (Mr. Las Vegas Drummer), won the right to represent the Southwest region at the International Mr. Drummer Finals, September in San Francisco. He was sponsored by the Buffalo and Backstreet bars of Las Vegas and is on the board of directors of the Nevada Gay Rodeo Association. He also served as its vice president for 1993-94. The runner-up was Mr. New Mexico Drummer, Dominick Zurlo, who was named International Bear Cub '94 at Bear Expo '94 in San Francisco earlier this year. The 2nd runner-up was Dion E. Dion, sponsored by the Copperstate Leathermen of Phoenix.

City and regional Drummer contests are taking place all over the country even as you read this; as we get the results, we'll keep you informed. This year, almost six Mr. Drummer contests will take place in the San Francisco Bay Area to name Mr. Northern California Drummer. In Washington, D.C., they named the first Mr. D.C. Drummer on June 4th; that winner will compete in the Mr. Mid-Atlantic Drummer regional competition in Baltimore on July 15-17 weekend. A new region for the 1994 competition, Mr. Western Canada Drummer, takes place in Calgary the weekend of July 14-17 by the Club Calgary. Stay tuned.

SM GAYS TAKE TOTAL CONTROL

On July 20, 1994, SM Gays will celebrate its 13th birthday party with the theme "Total Control." SM Gays is a nonprofit social and educational group for British gay men interested in consensual, sexual sadomasochism. One of their goals is to encourage safe and lawful SM practices by sharing information among interested participants. They hold Discovery Nights at The Block, 5 Parkfield St., Islington, London N1 on the third Wednesday of each month. SM Gays has also published resource books and raised money for people with AIDS or those facing legal prosecution for their SM sexuality. They have a speakers bureau and support other organizations that produce SM-related events.

The party on July 20 will include sheep-dog trials for the blindfolded dog, bondage control by blindfolded masters, and fantasy scenarios. (There will be a prize for the writer of the best Control Scenario.) Everyone is encouraged to come in appropriate fantasy attire.

For more information, write to SM Gays, BM SM Gays, London WC1 3XX, England. Include a first-class stamp or an International Stamp Exchange.

DUNGEON IN THE SKY

On September 24, London will experience the largest daytime SM event ever. The annual SM Pride March through central London and a night of events to benefit the Countdown on Spanner campaign will take place under the theme "Dungeon in the Sky."

Last year's Dungeon in the Sky, organized by SM Gays with the help of SM Dykes, was so successful that organizers hope this year's event will be truly pansexual. Once again, the venue is the University of London Union (ULU), Malet Street, London WC1. This year's sponsors include SM Gays, SM Dykes, Spanner, and SM Bis.

Events will include 20 workshops, the Bondage Garden, a shaving saloon, a massive SM Market, exhibitions, visuals, plus bars and food. Doors open at 1:30 p.m., with the first workshops starting at 2 p.m. Workshops will include Beginners, Advanced Bondage, Corporal Punishment, Tattoos and Piercing (by Simon Sebastian and Anni from the London Piercing Clinic), The £5 Dungeon, and Fisting for Fun. (This last workshop caused a great deal of controversy last year.) There will also be some women-only workshops.

Dungeon in the Sky runs until 8:30 p.m. ULU bars will remain open later for further socializing. From 10 p.m. onward, the big Spanner Slammer will go into action at another London venue. The location will be announced.

On Sunday, a Picnic for SMers will be held on London's famous Hampstead Heath. Meet at the gay men's cruising grounds and relax with friends. Bring your own food and drink from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, September 25.

Details of all events can be found in the SM Gays Dungeon in the Sky Programme. There is no pre-booking. You can get a copy of the program by sending an International Reply Coupon to SM Gays/Dinsky, BM SM Gays, London WC1N 3XX, England.

MANCHESTER MINESHAFT ROUSTED BY POLICE

In the early hours of Sunday, April 23, 13 men were arrested at the Mineshaft Club in Manchester. Police claimed they were responding to complaints about sex which allegedly took place in the club. Licensing officers visited the club on April 16 and said they went down to the basement at 11:20 p.m. and found men fist-fucking and smoking marijuana in a corridor. However, Mineshaft regulars say the club is generally quiet at that time. The raid happened just after 1:15 a.m. An entire busload of police officers suddenly appeared, armed with powerful flashlights and protected by rubber gloves. Within seconds, everyone in the club was handcuffed and dragged outside, some in very little clothing. One couple claims they were virtually "paraded" around the public area of the police station. Officers refused to provide any clothing.

The Mineshaft's licensee Phil Burkee was reported for breach of the Disorderly House Act of 1751. He has lost his job. A number of those arrested were encouraged to accept cautions from the police, but have vowed instead to pursue official complaints against them. Some say they are innocent of the offenses they were accused of, while others allege police brutality.

About 500 gay men and lesbians gathered on May 7 in Sackville Park, Manchester to protest police harassment. One of the men cautioned in the raid recognized several of the officers who had arrested him, sitting in plainclothes on a nearby wall. These officers were reportedly heckling some of the rally's speakers. An announcement was made from the stage, alerting protesters to the officers' presence. The crowd surged forward, forcing them to flee over the wall to a waiting car. The unmarked vehicle was unable to pull away, and the officers were forced to watch while two women simulated sex on the hood of the car.

AMSTERDAM COPS CRACK DOWN ON LEATHER LOITERERS

Along the Warmoesstraat, where leather bars like Argos, the Eagle, Club Jacques, and the Cockring flourish, leathermen are no longer allowed to hang out on the sidewalk. On Queensday, the police raided this friendly neighborhood and forced the men standing outside to go back into the Argos. A few hundred people fled from the cops, who were armed with sticks and dogs. Bar and club owners have been warned not to allow their patrons to stand outside their establishments with drinks in their hands. Recently, a female police officer stood outside the Argos at closing time and ordered patrons to either go home immediately or head for the afterhours club, the Cockring. ■

NEWS FROM GERMANY

BY THOMAS SCHWARTZ

LEATHER BY THE RHINE

COLOGNE: One of the largest events in the German leather community is Leather by the Rhine in Cologne. Last year more than a thousand men in leather, rubber and uniforms attended this meeting in an old railway repair hall. The vintage trains and the wagons around the hall were frequently used for meetings in the dark, and the nearby park was crowded with men, just like in an old raunchy movie. The leathermen from Panther, the main leather club in Cologne, who are responsible for this attraction, hope to repeat this success again. It starts on Friday, August 26, in an old brewery in downtown Cologne. The traditional bike run and the leather fleamarket in Cologne's main leather bar Hands follows on Saturday, August 27, as well as the main event in the railway repair hall. Visitors are expected from all over Europe. The men from the leather club Manchester will have their own stand with English beer, competing with the famous German brew, Kölsch. For further information, contact Panther, Postbox 170325, D-50500 Köln.

ROLLERCOASTERS AND LEATHER FAIR

DUSSELDORF: In the German town of Düsseldorf, the amusement park Kirmes is the background for a special meeting of Leather Men Düsseldorf. Between rollercoasters, several rides and refreshment stands, this active club has its own attractions. Beside the Kirmes workers in their tight, well-worn jeans and rough attitude, the leathermen fit in perfectly. The regular visitors of the fair are used to this special view, which for many of them is the only possibility to see what's happening in the leather community. By late evening, most bikers will be parking their heavy machines to get a good grip on their own man at the rollercoaster or to saddle a horse on the Merry-Go-Round. Kirmes-Meeting July 15th til 18th, Monday is specially recommended for a visit. For more information, contact Leather Men Düsseldorf, Box 10 20 05, 40011 Düsseldorf.

COAL MINERS AND RED EARTH

DORTMUND: The motorcycle club Red Earth is presenting their third meeting in Dortmund, the main coal-mining area of Germany, July 8th until 10th. This "Third Time" is one of the major meetings of MSC Rote Erde, also a member of the ECMC, the European Confederation of Motor Cycle Clubs. Guests are welcome. Contact KCR, Braunschweiger Str. 22, Dortmund.

UNIFORMS IN COLOGNE

COLOGNE: Köln-Oliv is the uniform club of Cologne. They meet every second month for a safe-sex party. Most men wear uniforms of the German army, while some men hide their uncut meat behind the tight green leather pants of the German police. Even men from the American Uniform Association can be seen here in the town with one of the most active leather and uniform scenes in Germany. Next meeting for men in uniform only is July 10th at S/M-Station, Alter Markt 4-6. You can write to Köln-Oliv, Postbox 290 341, 50525 Köln. ■

LEDER AM RHEIN
KÖLN: Die grösste Veranstaltung im Lederbereich in Deutschland ist wohl Leder am Rhein. Im letzten Jahr waren mehr als tausend Männer in Leder, Gummi und Uniform bei diesem Treffen in einem alten Ausbesserungswerk der Bundesbahn dabei. In den alten Waggons im Gelände war wirklich die Hölle los. Der Veranstalter, MS Panther, hofft, dass der Erfolg in diesem Jahr wiederholt wird. Am 26. August ist Auftakt im Brauhaus Sion in der Kölner Innenstadt, anschliessend geht es weiter in den Kölner Lokalen. Am Samstag ist Lederflohmarkt im Chains und am Abend, den 27. August bereits ab 20.00 h im Bundesbahn-Ausbesserungswerk die Grossveranstaltung Leder am Rhein. Empfehlung des Monats.

ACHERBAHN UND LEDERKIRMES
DÜSSELDORF: In Düsseldorf findet das jährliche Kirmestreffen der Leather Men Düsseldorf statt. Die einzigartige Mischung zwischen den Kirmeskameraden und den Ledermännern lässt so manch einen Kerl an der entsprechenden Stelle hart werden. Ein Besuch lohnt sich, besonders am Montag bei Schwarzwaldbchristl. Termine: 15. bis 18. Juli.

DER SCHWARZE REPORT

DIE KUMPEL VON DER ROTEN ERDE
DORTMUND: Vom 8. bis 10. Juli heisst es in Dortmund Das dritte Mal. Die Ledermänner von Rote Erde veranstaltet ihr Haupttreffen im KCR in der Braunschweiger Strasse 22. Ein Besuch bei den Kumpeln lohnt sich.

UNIFORMEN IN KÖLN

KÖLN: Köln-Oliv trifft sich alle zwei Monate, jeweils am zweiten Sonntag, zur Safe-sex Party. Die meisten Männer tragen Uniformen der Bundeswehr, einige packen ihre Männlichkeit in der engen grünen Uniform der Kradstaffel der Polizei ein. Das nächste Treffen ist am 10. Juli im S/M-Station, Alter Markt 4-6.

Taylor & Russo (L) get together after brutalizing Towers (R) in Righteous Revenge.

These Boots Are Made For Walkin'

Close-Up Productions has a sequel to their popular Steve Johnson video Daddies' Boys and guess what it's called? You got it, More Daddies' Boys.

This 75-minute video stars Chris Walker, Grant Larsen and Nick Manetti as three handsome and hung boys who are very devoted to Daddy.

More Daddies' Boys starts off with hung Canadian Chris Walker reciting a litany of ownership like "These are my Daddy's boots" and "I like the taste of his whip." Walker then proceeds to perform fellatio on the cock-handled whip. This opening scene is very ritualistic and gives an insight into the Daddy and his boy. Walker likes his cop Daddy to play rough with him, using whips, clothespins, hoods and more. Walker has a gorgeous cock which finally spews a huge load of cum.

Next is Grant Larsen, all tied up with nowhere to go. After much verbalization about what he wants his Daddy to do (things like ripping off his clothes and beating his muscular butt), Larsen gets gagged just to shut him up while his large dick is stroked.

Quiet Nick Manetti is kept bound and gagged while Daddy makes sure he is adequately submissive. That is, until Daddy jerks Manetti's big Italian cock to another big orgasm.

THE GOOD, THE BAD & THE NASTY

BY DYRK

Personal hygiene is important to the men of Trash.

What we couldn't show you is the golden downpour of Wetter.

Drum

My only complaints about this production were the anonymous arm of Daddy (who is he? what does he look like?) and some distracting background noise. That's not bad when you've seen some of what I have to review.

The second production I reviewed from the Close-Up files is Righteous Revenge, a Russo Production starring (who else) Donnie Russo, Hank Towers, Dallas Taylor and Dan Lyons. This is actually fun porno with more of a plot than I've seen since Falcon's Abduction series.

I loved the imagery of Russo and pretty boy Taylor walking through a long tunnel with Hank Towers waiting at the other end. Russo and Taylor's mission is to pick up a briefcase filled with money. But the briefcase is empty and Towers is chased down, tied up, and brutalized for double-crossing them. The dialogue is typical Russo style with lots of verbal abuse. When bossman Dan Lyons shows up expecting to have his money, he gets in on the revenge and takes hunky Hank on a cock ride which he gladly endures.

This 53-minute video is slow to get sexual, but heavy in scene. And the cum shots made my mouth water, I mean dick drip.

To order, write Close-Up Productions, PO Box 691658, West Hollywood, CA 90069, or fax 213-848-8651. More Daddies' Boys (#CV-1031) is $59 and Righteous Revenge (#RV-1003) is $69. Postage and handling is $4 for the first item and $1 for each additional item for U.S. and Canadian buyers and $8 for the first item and $4 for each additional item for all other foreign buyers.

Is It Live Or Virtual Raunch?

LiveVideo, Inc., has been busy producing some of the raunchiest videos I've had the pleasure to watch while I jerk off.

Keith Kotick's Trouble is a well produced and interesting look into the lives of five New York street hustlers: Hector, Tito, David, Out of Justice (what kind of name is that?) and Carlos.

Most of these ex-cons claim to be straight or bisexual and they just turn tricks to make a living. Then they proceed to jerk off on camera. They represent a variety of physical types, and there is a certain appeal to this video which transcends pornography and verges on the documentary. The cost is $44.

Jack Stone brings us Trash from the "sleazy underbelly of New York," starring Nicholas Blade, Kevin Casey, Tom Harris, Tommy Spit and Clipper Thomas. The men of Trash are believable leathermen and raunch pigs who are spruced up and trimmed close (except in the end during a clipping scene).

There are several unrelated scenes happening in this video which will keep the interest of most raunch lovers including auto-enemas, lots of piss, dildos and more. I was particularly intrigued watching the enema being forced out of the pig's more-than-eager butt hole. Trash sells for $54.

Another surprise for me was J. D. Slater's S.M.U.T. which started out looking and sounding like an X-rated music video. S.M.U.T., which retails for $54, is produced by Dan Andersan with executive production by Frank Ross. It stars the ever-present Donnie Russo, Dixon Duffy and Butch Adams, all of whom fulfill the leather image complete with facial hair and well-worn leathers.

Media

Sex Is... something different to many of us.

“I wanted to grab my yellow hanky and run, not walk, to the nearest piss orgy and join in.”

Russo's nipples are suctioned bigger than I've ever seen (on him), and he and one of his costars get into a cock-sword fight. There is plenty of fucking on a mega sling and some rocking dildo and toy action which continues to expand the bottom's bottom until he's got a couple fists going in and out of him. Russo also does some loving bootlicking and self-inflicted finger-fucking prior to trying to get a boot up his ass.

One of my favorites from Live Video is On Your Knees by Male Interiors Productions starring Chris Burns and Lee Baldwin. The plot sucks (Bible-thumper Baldwin gets converted into an SM slave), and the acting is little better than the dialogue.

Now I know you are probably saying, "So why is it one of Dyrk's favorites?" For three reasons: Most of the action pressed my erotic buttons; I was amused by the cheesy plot, acting and dialogue; and it brings to the forefront a soapbox issue of mine.

First, the action includes plenty of verbal abuse, bondage, whipping, knives, piercings (not for the faint of heart) and fisting. Believe it or not, Chris Burns never has anything up his butt throughout the entire video, but he sure knows how to make the bearer of the "Good News" open like a flower at a press conference.

And finally, it opens up the possibility to talk about fantasy and reality, safer sex, unsafe sex, and our undeniable right to choose. Without oversimplifying it and risking offending you, let's face it, videos are fantasies and not bound by the same rules of conduct as we are in reality.

In many videos we see what some would say was marginally risky behavior (sucking without a condom, rimming, Big Gulp water-sports, and more). In On Your Knees, Burns does something I haven't seen in videos for years. He fucks Baldwin without a rubber. I can hear AIDS activists and supporters, and health care workers and more gasping in abject horror. But guess what? As our managing editor said in a recent reply to a reader's letter, "We are not the sex police." People have the right to play together however they choose, and they do often choose to play without condoms. Safe, sane and consensual doesn't always mean risk free.

I am not advocating the spread of HIV and other communicable diseases. I am saying we all have the right to play however we want AFTER we have been responsible enough to discuss our desires with our partners and come to an informed choice. Okay, enough of my soapbox.

On Your Knees is a good bargain for bad boys (and Daddies) at just $44.

Another favorite of mine is Jack Stone's Wetter, starring James Silver, Josh Drake, Chris O'Neil, Tommy Spit, Frank Pitt and Rob Kennigan.

For those of us into that sort of thing, Wetter proves to serve as rocket fuel. There is so much burping, pissing, spitting, ass-eating, bootlicking, and more that I wanted to grab my yellow hanky and run, not walk, to the nearest piss orgy and join in.

For just $54 you can get Wetter and wetter. The only downside for me in this video was the overly used term of the endearment "Baby" and the incessant grunting that sounded like a herd of dying animals.

For any of these videos or to get a brochure of many other raunchy, nasty, hot videos from Live Video, Inc., write them at PO Box 1016, Cooper Station, NY 10276-1016 or call 212-255-6934 (orders from outside New York should call 800-260-7890). Add $5 for shipping and handling per order.

Sex Is... Sex, Fun, & A Thing Of The Past

Sex Is..., a film released last year by Marc Huestis and Lawrence Helman and reviewed in a previous issue of Drummer, is now available on video. The promoters have described this well done feature-length documentary better than I can at this stage of my column. Sex Is... "explores the attitudes of a diverse group of gay men toward sex and sexuality in the age of AIDS and HIV."

"The documentary is comprised of fully developed, in-depth interviews with subjects reflecting a broad spectrum of experience within the gay community; from monogamy to casual safe sex, from the overtly intellectual to the intensely physical. People of all age groups (19 - 72), appearances, celebrity, color, HIV status and sexual activity are represented. The sexual testimony is very intimate, sometimes emotional, often vulnerable, but always non-judgmental."

To order this 80-minute video for $39.95, call Outsider Productions at 415-863-3226 or write them at 3525 17th Street, #7, San Francisco, CA 94110. ■

Washington

D.C. and Baltimore

By Allen Grim

Our nation's capital is full of men who understand the vagaries of fortune and power. With each new administration, Washington, D.C., takes on a new persona. New dominant factions emerge; those formerly in favor must accept a subordinate position or go elsewhere. The monuments stand idly by and watch in amusement at this changing of the guard. Tourists roam the streets, chasing the national history which fills each museum, library, and federal building. Washington, D.C., is full of conservative starched shirts and three-piece suits by day. But after dark, one can find the same men decked out in the trappings of another sort of power game: leather chaps, hairy chests sporting pierced nipples, and leather-and-chrome harnesses. After dark, designer suits give way to Levi's, cowhide, studs, and boots.

The D.C. Eagle has been the main watering hole for the leather crowd for over 22 years. Forced to move twice so the city government could build the convention center and hotels, the D.C. Eagle is now located at 639 New York Ave. N.W. It's home bar to seven leather clubs—Centaur MC, Lost Angels, FFA/CAC, Highwaymen T.N.T., Spartan MC, Scorpions MC, and Defenders LLC. Tuesday is Happy Hour Day with happy hour prices in effect all day until closing. Wednesday night, local clubs take turns holding beer busts, and Thursday night is Wooden Nickel Night. (Get a wooden nickel with each drink. Two will get you a draft beer, four will get you a domestic bottle).

A few blocks away, The Green Lantern opened about a year and a half ago at 1313 Green Ct. N.W. Happy hour runs from 11:00 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. Local clubs have presented the bar with replicas of their colors, making the Green Lantern a welcome addition to the leather scene in the city.

The Leather Rack, a leather retailer, has been serving our community for over 20 years. Thanks to the Leather Rack, it's possible to shop locally for equipment and leather clothing instead of traveling to New York or waiting to receive mail-order merchandise from a catalog. Like the Eagle, this shop has been forced to move and now resides in the Dupont Circle area at 1723 Connecticut Ave. N.W. The Leather Rack carries a full line of leather clothing, footwear, SM equipment, and body jewelry. Leather harnesses and restraints custom-made by Rocco Leathers are sold at the Leather Rack. Body piercing is offered on Monday evenings by appointment with Logger.

The Pleasure Palace, opening 15 years ago, also serves the leather community with two locations, one in Georgetown at 1063 Wisconsin Ave. N.W., and the other in Dupont Circle at 1710 Connecticut Ave. N.W. Like the Leather Rack, it carries a full line of leather, fetish clothing and toys.

D.C. offers a smorgasbord of places to eat. The most well-known is Annie's Paramount Steakhouse at 1609 17th St. N.W., with a full menu from seafood to prime beef. Brunch is served from midnight Friday until 4:00 p.m. Saturday, and again from midnight Saturday until 4:00 p.m. Sunday. Annie's is open seven days a week, 24 hours a day on weekends, until 11 p.m. Sunday.

Another fine eatery is 808 King-French Quarter Cafe, which is located in nearby Old Towne, Alexandria, VA, at 808 King St.

The "O" Street corridor in southeast Washington is the playground section of town. 20 "O" St. S.E. is the home of The Club Baths. Private rooms and lockers are available, along with an exercise room and sauna. Open seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

Down the street at 24 "O" St. S.E. is the Follies cinema, offering the best and latest in male erotica. Sit and watch the movie or roam the corridors. In the same complex at 24

Stud

Club Baths

Lambda Rising

Cinema Follies

"O" St. S.E. is the Glorious Health Club, known to the locals as the Glory Hole.

The first leather organization of note in D.C. is SIGMA, dedicated to the practice and teaching of safe, sane, and consensual SM and fetish play. SIGMA meets the second Monday of each month. SIGs (special interest groups) meet separately at the meeting space or in private homes. SIGs include bondage, water sports, tit torture, and whipping.

BHT (Brother Help Thyself) is a coalition organization of the local Levi-leather clubs of D.C. and Baltimore, banding together to raise money for gay-related charities. Once a year the board of BHT and its voting members meet to allocate the funds for organizations like Food for Friends, which feeds homebound people with AIDS.

D.C. boasts one of the cleanest and most efficient Metro Rail systems in the country. To use the system one must purchase a fare card at one of the rail stations. Metro Rail runs Monday through Friday, 5:30 a.m. until midnight, and weekends from 8:00 a.m. until midnight.

Metro Bus runs 24 hours a day, but not on all routes. For information on public transit timetables and routes, call (202) 637-7000.

Taxicabs run on a zone system. There are no meters. A taxi fare staying within a zone will run $2.80. Most Drivers are honest, but you should know where you are going and ask a local what the fare should be. There is an extra charge for more than one passenger in your party, and if you call a cab it will cost you more than hailing one on the street. All the bars, hotels, and restaurants have listings for taxicabs. Be sure that a zone map is displayed in the cab, that the driver's license is also displayed, and the driver is that person. If not, do not get in the cab.

The most well-known annual event here is Leather Weekend, hosted by Centaurs MC. The weekend is a celebration of the Levi-leather brother- and sisterhood. Highlights of the weekend are the Lavish Leather Cocktails on Saturday night and the Mid-Atlantic Leather Contest on Sunday afternoon. The 10-year-old event has grown from 300 attendees to over 1,500 this past January. Leather Weekend is held the third weekend of each January.

On even years, the Centaurs MC holds Olympia, a run held at a campground in Central Pennsylvania. Olympia is held over the Labor Day weekend every other year. This weekend is filled with food, hot fun, hard play, and hunky men in leather. Space is limited, so if you wish to attend, you have to apply early.

In mid-May, the Highwaymen T.N.T. play host to BEARFEST, Celebrating the Real Man Image. Also in mid-May, Defenders LLC sponsors Rites of Spring. Another event becoming a popular feature is the Dungeon Dance. There is no set schedule, but there are two or three each year. A planned annual event is the American Leatherman Contest. This year's contest is slated for mid-October. November is anniversary time at the D.C. Eagle. Over the Thanksgiving weekend, the D.C. Eagle holds a lavish celebration which includes the Mr. D.C. Eagle Contest.

An hour's drive to the north on highway 95 will bring you to Baltimore, MD. This blue-collar town has a laid back feeling, far from the hustle of D.C. The Baltimore Eagle, the main gathering place for the Levi-leather crowd, is located at 2022 N. Charles St. The entrance is on 21st St. This is the home bar to: C.O.M.M.A.N.D., Shipmates, BLADeaf, and Trident International D.C. Hall, Inc. The Baltimore Eagle holds special nights on Fridays like Full Moon Parties, Underwear Parties, Boxer Shorts Night, and so on. Saturday Nights are club nights, when clubs run the bar and serve draft beer and hot dogs. Clubs from as far away as Michigan have been known to host Club Night at the Baltimore Eagle.

The third weekend in April is anniversary weekend. This year, the Baltimore Eagle celebrates its third birthday. In mid-May, look for the Mr. Baltimore Eagle Contest. The Baltimore Eagle is host and sponsor of the Drummer Mid-Atlantic Regional Contest, Mr. Mid-Atlantic Drummer, the third weekend of July. The Baltimore Eagle has the distinction of holding the first, and to this reporter's knowledge, only Ms. Eagle contest. Plans are still in the works for this year's contest.

A newcomer to the leather bar scene is The Stud at 1728 N. Charles St., advertised as a high tech, Levi-leather cruise bar. We'll keep our eyes and ears open and report on its progress. It is with sadness that I report the Gallery has closed, long-time home bar to the Shipmates, and long time friend to the leather community.

The Leather Underground at 136 W. Read St. carries everything for the leatherman and woman, from leather clothing to videos and toys. Harnesses and armbands can be made to order. Body piercing is also available on Saturdays by appointment. Hell Bent on Leather at 6425 Harford Rd. prides itself on its custom work. Chaps, vests, and shirts are guaranteed to have that perfect fit. The Baltimore Eagle Leather Shop also carries a full line of leather clothing and accessories.

Other annual events in Baltimore include C.O.M.M.A.N.D.'s anniversary weekend and the Mr. Maryland Leather Contest the first weekend in November. In odd years, the Shipmates host Keelhaul. Like Olympia, it is held at a camp in the woods over the Labor Day weekend, where cabins full of hot men come together for a weekend of brotherhood and heavy play.

Getting around Baltimore is a snap. All taxis use meters. The fares start at $1.40 for the first mile. The charge is $1.00 for each additional mile. The bus system covers all of Baltimore, and most routes pass through the downtown area. The fare is $1.10 and $.10 for a transfer. The Baltimore Metro subway system runs from downtown northwest to Owings Mills Station with 12 intermediate stops. The system operates Monday through Friday, 5 a.m. to midnight, Saturday 8 a.m. until midnight, and Sunday 11 a.m. 'til 7 p.m.

In Richmond, VA, a two-hour trip south of D.C., the Teddy Bear Leather Club hosts their anniversary party the third weekend in March. The main event is the Mr. and Ms. Teddy Bear Leather Contest. The first weekend in October, A.S.G.R.A. (Atlantic States Gay Rodeo Association) hold their annual rodeo, a weekend of rough riding and steer rasslin', as cowboys and cowgirls compete in a true Wild West rodeo.

Lambda Rising bookstore has been serving the gay community for well over 20 years by carrying the latest in reading materials, cards, feature movies of gay interest, music, posters, and calendars. The D.C. location is a block south of the Leather Rack at 1625 Connecticut Ave. N.W., and in Baltimore at 241 W. Chase St.

So if you're planning a trip to the Washington, D.C./Baltimore area, there is plenty to do and see besides the usual tourist attractions.

Health Care Reform: It's Not a Done Deal Yet

SAFETY BELTS

BY TONY SCARSELLA, M.D.

The American health-care system is currently undergoing sweeping upheaval. Big employers, insurance companies, and health maintenance organizations (HMOs) like Kaiser are taking aggressive steps to keep costs down. Hospital chains are completing mergers to meet the increasingly competitive environment. Most important, Congress is now considering the Clinton Health Care Reform Plan which would extend a basic package of medical benefits to all Americans for the first time.

With all these ongoing and proposed changes, what should you do about guaranteeing your own health care at a price you can afford?

Above all, be realistic: Health care reform is not a done deal yet. Any sweeping reform like the proposed Clinton plan has not been enacted, only proposed. Congress is considering other plans as well. If and when health-care changes are enacted, they will be phased in gradually, probably over five to 10 years' time.

For the foreseeable future, most of the familiar rules of the existing health-care system will remain in place. What does this mean for you?

Men who receive health-care coverage as a fringe benefit at work must continue to rely on that plan.

Men who are self-employed or do not receive health-care benefits from their employers must still obtain their own insurance or join an HMO to receive medical coverage. In that event, you must fill out an application with an insurance company or HMO, and then qualify for their coverage under all the familiar rules of the current health-care system. Your rates will be determined by your age, sex, location, and medical history.

Your occupation will also affect acceptance or rejection of your application. If you're a lumberjack who operates chain saw equipment every day, you may have trouble getting individual coverage. If you are a male hairdresser, you may also face difficulties. Insurance companies redline some occupations.

The lumberjack has a dangerous job. The hairdresser has a "gay job" and therefore is believed to run a greater risk of HIV infection.

Your current health-care—specifically, what's noted in your medical records—can also affect your application. If you have a medical problem like a bad back or a trick knee, you will probably get health-care coverage, subject to an exclusion for this preexisting condition. If you have a more serious preexisting condition in your medical records—like HIV infection or heart trouble—you will probably be rejected for coverage.

In addition, some insurance companies will reject an applicant if he has a history of sexually-transmitted diseases. Such individuals, the companies believe, are at great risk of HIV infection.

A man who is currently receiving medical care for a serious condition through his employer's health-care plan faces "job lock." If he leaves his current job, he probably won't be able to get coverage unless he moves to another big employer. In those instances, the insurance carriers often must accept all company employees, although they may impose an exclusion for preexisting conditions for three, six, or 12 months. At smaller companies, each new employee might have to qualify for insurance individually. Some people will be accepted; others will be excluded.

Finally, men who lose their jobs must make arrangements to continue their health coverage until they find another position. Through the COBRA provision, most companies allow former employees to continue their health coverage for an additional 18 months, though at their own cost.

As you wait to see what kind of health-care reform comes out of Washington, keep your current coverage, whenever possible. If you want to change your coverage, make your application carefully. Know what's written in your medical records. You can request a copy from your insurance company or your physician(s).

You don't want to be turned down by one insurance carrier or HMO. That rejection could cause you trouble in gaining coverage elsewhere. Insurance carriers and HMOs can learn about your previous rejection through medical information clearinghouses, just as potential creditors know about your income and financial background through TRW.

Here's the hardest part of waiting for health-care reform. You should keep your medical history as clean as possible. In other words, try to keep your record free of serious conditions that might limit your choices of coverage or, possibly, exclude you from coverage altogether. You can do this by making an appointment with a new doctor, giving him or her an assumed name, and paying all charges in cash. Exclusionary practices will probably be less common or even outlawed under health-care reform, but you've got to take precautions for now.

In the past year, some insurance companies have partially lifted the ban on preexisting conditions, but they are limiting coverage for those individuals, for example, by setting an annual limit on their health-care expenditures. Such limits (say, $50,000) pose real drawbacks for individuals with potentially serious problems.

If you want to keep your medical history as clean as possible and want to get an HIV test, for example, go to one of the anonymous test sites found in most major cities. Never give your legal name, social security number, or other identifying information to a medical professional who is testing you for antibodies to HIV, the virus thought to cause AIDS. Do not ask your regular health-care provider to give you the test, even if he or she promises you that it will be anonymous or confidential. Test results could still be placed in your medical records.

If you don't take this precaution and the test comes back positive, it will severely limit your options in the future. Even if the test comes back negative, if the fact that you got this test goes into your medical history, your insurance carrier may think, "Aha, he's gay, and he's worried about HIV," and that might limit your options as well.

For all the talk about health-care reform, remember that little has changed when it comes to securing your own coverage. Those who need modern medicine the most, or those who might need care, are often denied that care in the current system. Gay men, healthy or not, are often stigmatized as well.

For now, hold onto your existing health-care coverage if it fits your needs and budget. Make any changes in your coverage carefully. And urge your elected officials to enact meaningful, cost-effective reform so that all Americans will have access to top-notch health care. ■

ON A BET

The first rays of morning sunlight flooded the loft of the barn, causing me to squint. My head swam from the beer I had consumed the night before. This was one hell of a hangover. I tried to put my hand over my eyes to block out the light. That's when I discovered I was securely bound. My hands were tied behind my back, and my ankles were tied together. I was nude except for the jock I wore under my torn jeans. I looked around trying to remember how I had gotten myself into this position. Here I was laying bound in a barn loft full of hay. Below me I could hear shuffling, someone walking around. "Hey!" I shouted. "Who's down there?" No one answered. "Is anybody there?" I screamed as loud as I could. This time I got a response. A horse whinnied at me. I tried to loosen the ropes binding my wrists. I must have tried for over an hour, but to no avail.

I could vaguely remember being at the bar, some rustic dump in the middle of nowhere. I had been drinking beer all night. Did I pass out? How did I get here? Where the fuck am I? And who the fuck tied me up? I just couldn't remember anything. The hay-loft was getting hot. I looked up and noticed the tin roof. Great. It was gonna get hotter. Sure would have been nice if there had been some water.

I watched the sun circle the barn through openings in the walls. The temperature rose all afternoon as the sun beat down on the barn's metal roof. I lay covered in sweat, dirt, and straw, itching, hungry, with my head throbbing and my bladder bulging. I was there all day, waiting for my captor or captors to show themselves. Finally, by the shadows on the wall, I could tell the sun was going down. The temperature dropped imperceptibly. It was impossible to hold my water any longer; I let loose and pissed like a big dog. The straw I laid in soaked up the puddle, but I couldn't escape the smell. I was just too tired, cramped, and sick to care. I closed my eyes and drifted off to sleep.

I was shocked into consciousness by freezing water thrown on me. Shaking my head, I glared at the man standing over me. He was wearing a pair of overalls and well-worn, dirty work boots. A broad leather belt hung over his shoulder. The baggy fit of his clothing couldn't disguise the big bulge at his crotch. A brief impulse to say, "Is that a pitchfork in your pocket, or are you just glad to see me?" came and went. I was too pissed to make jokes. "What the fuck's going on? Who are you? Why am I tied up?" I shouted at the stranger.

My answer was the back of a hand across my mouth. It was a big paw that packed a convincing wallop. My ears rang so loud I could barely hear him. "That ain't no way to talk to your pa," he said in a deep, calm voice.

Apparently the blow had knocked all the common sense out of me, because I found myself talking back in a bratty, whiny tone of voice that even I found annoying. "What do mean, my pa? You ain't my fucking pa!"

Once again his hand came flying through the air and connected with the side of my head. If I hadn't been tied up already, it would have knocked me flat. "I said, watch how you talk to me, boy!" he growled.

My face burned where he had slapped me. Finally I mustered my patience and tried to be a reasonable human being. "Look, man, I don't know what's going on. I don't know you. There's no way you're my father," I said, trying to compose myself.

He stared down at me with this big grin on his face. "I didn't say I was your father, I'm your pa. I won you last night at the bar. You're my boy now."

"What do you mean, you won me?"

It seems we had made a bet on a game of pool. If I won, he would spend every weekend for a year working on repairs on my house and truck, if I lost I would be his boy for a month and work as a ranch hand on his spread. Guess I lost. I couldn't remember any of it, but he said everyone at the bar were witnesses. No doubt about it, he was one hot man, and I likely did hit on him, but I can't believe I would make a fool bet like that.

"Okay," I said, "even if I did make such a stupid bet, you're not really going to keep me here for a month, are you?"

"Yep," he answered.

"I'll be missed. Someone will call the cops. I do have a life, you know."

"Nope," he snapped. "That's a damn lie. You told everybody at the juke joint you was on a vacation, and you don't have no kind of job to go back to when it's over 'cause you got yourself fired off the last one. Everyone you know thinks you left town and won't be back for a good long spell."

Damn my big mouth. My frustration was enough to make me drum my heels on the floor. "Come on, man, the joke's over. Untie me and let me get home," I said with a feeble laugh.

"Ain't no joke, boy. You're mine for one month. Glad to have you too. Gets lonely this far out of town, and I got more than enough work to run some of the city fat offa you and tighten up that flabby butt of yours."

I broke out in a cold sweat as it sank in. He was serious. (About everything except me having a flabby butt, I hoped.) "Listen, you asshole!" I shrieked in fury. "This has gone on

by Allen Grim, Illustration by DaDé

"That's quite some ass you plans for that ass. What do yo long enough. Untie me now, you hick motherfucker!" I strained against the bonds, thrashing and rolling in the straw.

He sighed and shook his head, then dusted the thighs of his overalls. The man's legs were massive. "I told you to watch your mouth. Looks like you didn't learn no respect being up here all day. Well, it's time I drove this lesson home!" he said matter-of-factly. With that, he picked me up in one swift motion and carried me over to a bale of hay in the center of the loft. Roughly he threw me across it, securing my legs to a ring in the floor. Untying my wrists, he bound each of them to rings in front of the bale, leaving me prone to whatever fiendish contrived discipline he had in mind.

Grabbing a handful of my hair, he painfully raised my head so I could look into his eyes. "Well, boy, I'm gonna teach you to respect your pa if it takes all month." I watched in fascinated horror as he removed the wide leather belt from his shoulder. He walked around behind me, and I knew what was coming.

The rough straw bit painfully into the tender flesh of my abdomen and thighs. The belt made a whooshing sound as it cut through the air, followed by an explosion of pain that rocked the very foundation of my being. Pain exploded from my exposed ass up to my brain and back. Again he raised the belt and brought it down. Whoosh! My ass felt like it was on fire. But through it all I refused to make a sound. Not one whimper or cry. Suddenly it stopped. "Now, boy, you gonna show your pa some respect?" he demanded.

"Fuck you," I replied hoarsely.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh! Over and over he whipped my exposed rump with his worn leather belt. I yelled and carried on like a maniac. Somewhere along the way, I realized I wasn't just complaining about the pain of being beaten. I was releasing all my fury about being fired from my lousy job, my fear and uncertainty about the future, my anger at myself for getting into this mess.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh! I yelled so hard I thought the blood vessels in my face would burst. Then suddenly, the intense pain was gone. I crossed the line from pain to wild, mind-fucking pleasure. Whoosh! I could feel my hard cock straining against my jock pouch. Whoosh! I ground it into the bale. Whoosh! Oh my God! Whoosh! "YES!" I screamed, as I shot a load with more force than I thought possible. Whoosh! "Yes Pa! Oh God YES Pa!" Again and again I shot, blowing my load, filling my jock pouch with thick, hot cream.

As I calmed down from the high of orgasm, I heard the clink of the belt buckle as it hit the floor. "That's better, boy," he whispered. Callused hands rubbed my inflamed skin. "You know, boy, I did that for your own good."

"Yes, Pa," I heard myself respond.

"That's quite some ass you got, boy. Pa's got plans for that ass. What do you say to that, boy?"

"Whatever you say, Sir," I whispered. My body was still shaking from cumming.

Slap! He brought his hand down across my burning and I'm sure fiery red ass. "Just Pa, you hear, boy?"

"Yes, Pa."

It was very quiet. The only sound was Pa's and my breathing. It seemed to last forever, but I know it was only a few seconds. Then the silence was broken by the sound of clothing being removed. I watched out of the corner of my eye as he walked around and stood in front of me. I stared at his boots. He reached down and released my hands from their confinement. As I pushed myself up, my eyes followed his legs until they reached what they were looking for. There, standing out hard and proud, was Pa's manhood. It was eight inches of raw power, staring me in the face. My eyes locked onto it. The head was huge, like a giant mushroom, waiting to be harvested.

He took a step forward, placing his tool right under my nose. I breathed in, filling my lungs with his musk. My own rod was again coming to life, filling my cum-soaked jock. Lifting his cock, he moved in closer, burying my face in his ball sac. "That's right, boy, breath in, sniff your pa's balls. Smell that sweat that's been collecting there all day." Again, I took a deep breath. The smell sent my head spinning. "Stick out your tongue, boy. Taste your pa." I did as I was instructed. I lapped at his balls like a starving kitten at a bowl of milk. The salty taste drove me wild. I could feel my balls churning, building toward a second coming.

Just as I was about to reach the breaking point he pulled back, causing me to fall forward. "Get up, boy," he ordered.

I pushed myself back onto my haunches. My ankles were still secured to the floor. I looked up to see the entire man standing before me—the thick muscled chest, arms covered by fine hair, and broad shoulders. It was obvious that his body was built by hard manual labor. The sight of this powerful man sent a new wave of lust straight to my balls. Stepping around the bale, he stood once again only inches from my face. "Now, boy, you're gonna show your pa some gratitude for showing you the error of your ways."

Taking my head in both hands, he guided his inflamed member into my hungry mouth. Past my teeth, over my tongue, and deep into my throat until my lips were planted 'round his root. He stood motionless, buried deep. Air. I couldn't breathe. I tried to pull back, but he held me tight. Air! My lungs started to burn. I struggled, but his grip on my head was like a vice.

I was drowning on this man's cock. AIR! My mind screamed. He lunged forward, slapping my face with his hard stomach, and then pulled his phallus free of its sheath. I breathed in, gasping, filling my lungs with air. Inhale, exhale, inhale. "Well, boy," he said, "not bad. Forty-five seconds. I like to feel my cock deep in a hot throat like that." Sitting down, he leaned back, causing his manhood to wave in my face. "Get to work, boy. Make your pa feel good." Leaning forward, I closed my lips behind the mushroom head and began to run my tongue over the sensitive glans. I could hear him suck air in between his teeth as I continued teasing him.

Slowly I moved down the shaft until the head was nestled at the opening of my throat. Taking a deep breath through my nose I fell forward, sending the entire tool back into its hot, moist sheath. "That's right, boy, eat your pa's dick, work it good," he said. I did just that. Up and down over his hard cock I worked my mouth, stopping occasionally to tease the head. After 30 minutes I could feel my jaws begin to ache, and he showed no signs got, boy. Pa's got u say to that, boy?"

of getting close to coming. "That's good for now, boy," he said, and grabbing my hair, he pulled my face from his cock.

Moving behind me, he shoved, throwing me again across the bale of hay. He roughly kneaded my fleshly ass cheeks with his callused hands, pulling the cheeks apart. He continued stroking my buns, working his hands towards the moist pink hole. I couldn't help but moan my approval. Slowly he worked a finger up my winking anus. I pushed back as he began to finger-fuck me. Adding a second finger, he worked my rosebud until it opened on its own. "That's right, boy. Work that hungry hole for your pa," he mumbled. I answered by pushing back, sending his coarse fingers deeper into my gut.

I began to move my body, enjoying the fingerplay in my rectum. I could feel my balls beginning to churn as Pa's thick fingers rubbed across my prostate. I began breathing harder, trying to bring myself to a climax. Just as it was getting good, he pulled out, leaving me hanging on the very brink of coming. Then there was a new sensation running up my ass cleavage. He rubbed his face across my sensitive opening. That day's growth of beard sent electric waves racing up my spine. His tongue lapped at the rim of my hole and slid in and out, sending new waves of pleasure to my throbbing dick. I pushed back, trying to give him all he wanted. This encouraged him to work more feverishly. With a final wet kiss he stopped. "That sure is some sweet ass, boy," he said as he caught his breath. Moving forward, he placed the blood-filled head of his battering ram dead center to my open and waiting pleasure hole.

"OH, YES PA!" I cried. "FUCK ME!" With one forceful lunge, he buried his entire flaming spear, impaling me on its full length. Fireworks exploded in my head as my body reacted to the mix of searing pain and intense pleasure his entry caused. I shivered with anticipation as he slowly pulled back, leaving only the bulbous head nestled inside my steaming hole. The entire barn was silent as I lay there waiting for him to stab me again. And I didn't have to wait long. With a force that equaled the first lunge, he sent his tool back deep inside, causing me to throw my head back as a moan rose from deep within me. "That's a good boy, take your pa's dick. Feel it filling you up," he hissed in my ear.

"Oh, God, Pa," I responded hoarsely. Working with long deliberate strokes, he worked his hard fleshy probe in and out. With increasing speed he raced toward the final end. The sound of his pelvis smacking my ass echoed in the loft like thunder during a summer storm. His balls slapped my inner thighs. Faster and faster he pumped. Deeper and deeper he drove his throbbing member into me, sending waves of euphoric pleasure into my own groin.

"Get ready, boy," he hissed through clinched teeth. "Your pa's about to fill you up with his jizz." And with a final lunge, he sent his massive cock to its deepest. I could feel it jerk as he flooded my insides with his molten load. With an eruption that started at the very bottom of my feet, my whole body contracted as I exploded again into the cum-soaked jock I still wore.

Exhausted, Pa collapsed across my back, still buried deep inside. "Well, boy," he whispered, "looks like it's gonna be a great month." Silently I agreed.

That was almost a month ago. The barn looks a lot different now. I'm in charge of mucking out, keeping the horses curried, and the harness oiled. Under Pa's watchful eye, I've made a few improvements in the hayloft. A new ranch hand is bound to make mistakes, and Pa is always looking for new ways to show me the light. During this month, I've learned how to cook, clean the house, drive a tractor, slop hogs, haul feed out to the cattle, and clean out an irrigation ditch. In spite of everything I've learned, I know I've only scratched the surface. It's not easy to wrest a living out of the land. My respect for Pa has grown the more I've come to understand that fact. He was right about one other thing, too. I did have a flabby butt.

Tonight Pa and I are going back to the bar to celebrate the end of my apprenticeship. He says he figures I've earned a little toot after all the hard work I've put into these acres. But there's something he doesn't know. I'm gonna challenge him to another game of pool. And that's one game I intend to lose for sure. ■

MR. DRUMMER CONTEST AREAS

Strip Room

The summer of '93 was the summer of my Heartland Discipline Tour. Nine thousand miles of country roads from Oklahoma to Ohio, Minnesota to Nebraska. Yeah, it was wet. Yeah, the Mississippi was everywhere and bridgeless for a thousand miles. And, yeah, it was the Midwest: flat, humid, hot, corn-filled, and fire-flied.

But there are barns in the Heartland. There are lots of sheds for wood and implements and animals. And there are daddies who were raised under the strap and who still believe it's what's best for a boy. I'd been corresponding with many of these daddies, and the summer of '93 was the time for my comeuppance.

One of my daddies farmed a beautiful spot in Indiana with his lover, Tim. Storms thundered in from the west over corn fields as far as you could see. To the north were woods just behind a small stream. The main house sat several hundred yards from the big barn. The drive was long, with sheds that blocked the farmyard from the road.

My Indiana daddy didn't waste any time or patience. The day after I drove in I began this account.

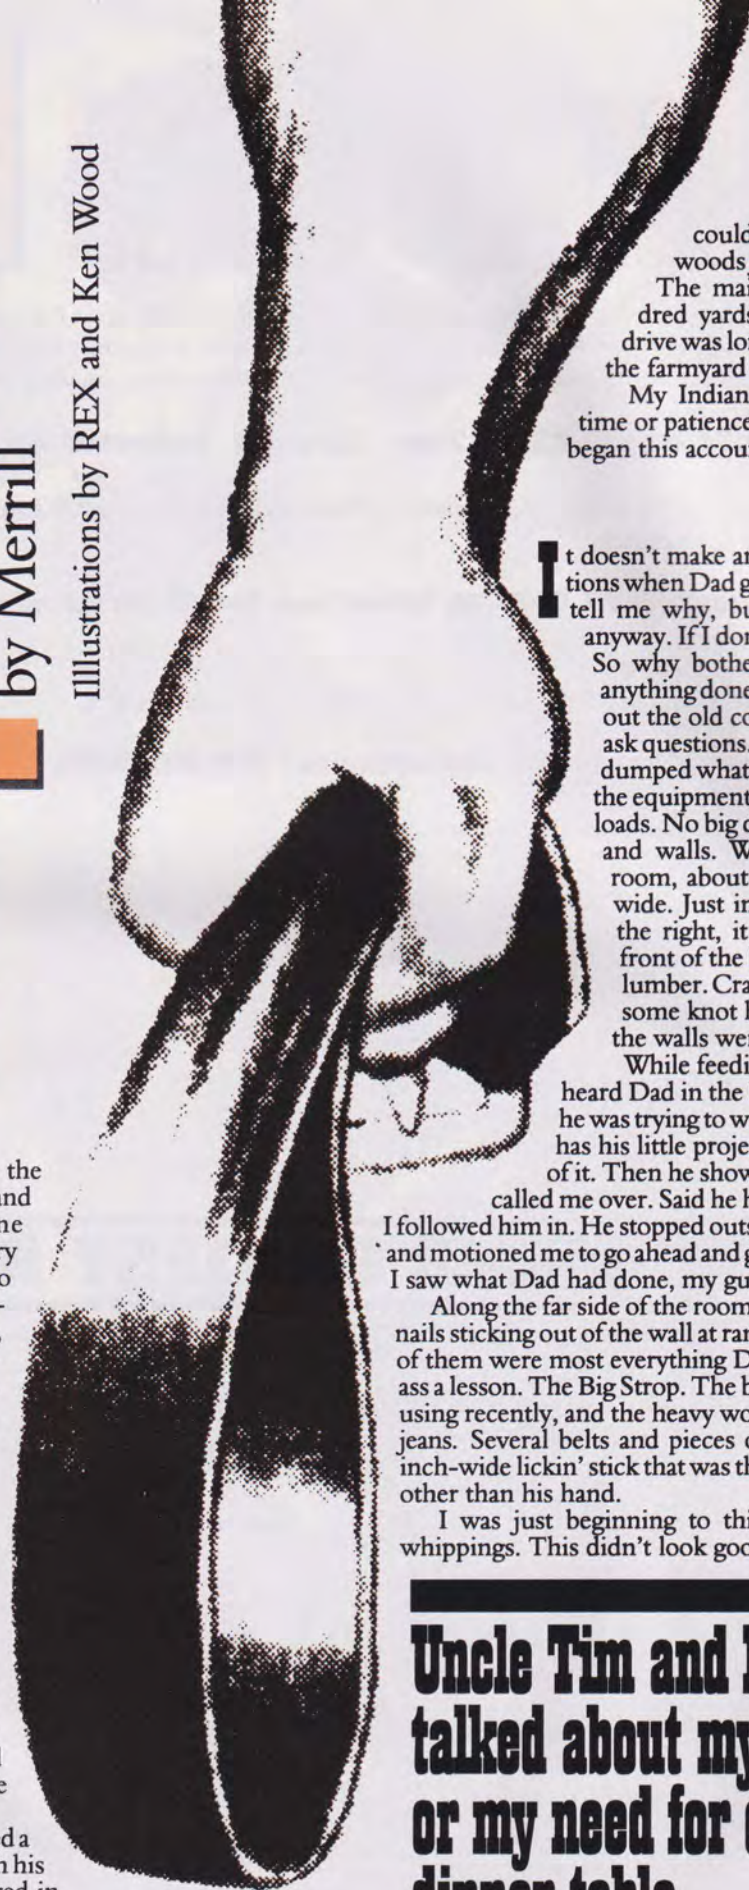

It doesn't make any difference if I ask questions when Dad gives me a chore to do. He'll tell me why, but I have to do the work anyway. If I don't, I'll get my ass whipped. So why bother asking why Dad wants anything done? When he told me to clean out the old coal bin in the barn, I didn't ask questions. I got the wheelbarrow and dumped what little coal there was behind the equipment shed. It was only five or six loads. No big deal. Then I swept the floor and walls. What was left was a small room, about 10 feet long and five feet wide. Just inside the barn door, off to the right, it ran lengthwise along the front of the barn. It was all roughhewn lumber. Cracks between the boards and some knot holes let light through, but the walls were pretty solid.

While feeding the hogs that evening, I heard Dad in the barn, hammering nails like he was trying to wear out his arm. Dad always has his little projects, so I didn't think much of it. Then he showed up at the barn door and called me over. Said he had something to show me. I followed him in. He stopped outside the door to the coal bin and motioned me to go ahead and go in. When I did, and when I saw what Dad had done, my gut felt empty and upset.

Along the far side of the room there were a couple dozen nails sticking out of the wall at random places. On about half of them were most everything Dad's ever used to teach my ass a lesson. The Big Strip. The big leather paddle he'd been using recently, and the heavy wooden one he used over my jeans. Several belts and pieces of leather straps. Even the inch-wide lickin' stick that was the first thing he used on me other than his hand.

I was just beginning to think I was too big for ass whippings. This didn't look good.

Uncle Tim and Dad often talked about my whippings or my need for one at the dinner table.

"Now, boy. This is what we call the Strip Room...You remember that, boy. 'Cause you're going to be told to get your ass out to the Strip Room one of these days, and you don't want to lose your way."

After I'd had time for this to sink in, Dad told me to sit on the bench; that he wanted to talk to me. That's when I noticed he had built a bench across the other end of the room. About two feet off the floor, it was a simple plank that ran from wall to wall. I sat down and leaned back on the wall behind the bench. I saw a wall of tools used to whip my butt and Dad standing in the doorway of what suddenly seemed to be a very small room. It was hot, but I was sweating more from nerves than from the heat and humidity.

"Now, boy. This is what we call the Strip Room. Got that? Strip Room. You remember that, boy. 'Cause you're going to be told to get your ass out to the Strip Room one of these days, and you don't want to lose your way. I assure you of that. When you get told to go to the Strip Room, you'll be told what to take off when you get here. You take off exactly what you're told, you hear me? Nothing more and nothing less. Sometimes you'll be in your underpants. Sometimes your shirt is all you'll take off. If you are told to get buck-assed naked, you better not even have your watch on when I get here. You hang your clothes on these hooks here." He pointed to five hooks he'd screwed into the wall just opposite the door.

"When you get told to go to the Strip Room, you'll also be told what you're going to get whipped for. And you'll be told how long it will be before I come out here to get your ass. It might be a few minutes or up to a half hour or more. You are to come out here, immediately strip as you've been told, and use whatever time you have to think about what you've done and what you're going to get for it.

"You most likely will not be told what I'm going to use on your backside. I might show up with something other than what's out here. Like a switch. You will also most likely not be told where the beating is going to take place. It probably won't be in the Strip Room. I'll take you somewhere in the barn, or to the garage or the tool shed or the woods or maybe even back to the house or out there in the middle of the yard. Do you understand what I'm sayin', boy?"

"I've been thinkin' you're about ready for a good punishment beating, boy," Dad said. "It's not just horsing around today...You need me to tie you down for it?"

I assured him I did.

"You understand the rules, boy?"

I whispered yes, dad.

"You know where the Strip Room is and what it's for, boy?"

I nodded in the affirmative.

Then he left me sitting there pondering this new addition to the farm.

It wasn't long before I was ordered to the Strip Room. About three days later, Uncle Tim caught me horsing around the stream instead of weeding the garden like I was supposed to. Dad was off at a construction job in town, so Uncle Tim told me to get my butt up in the woods on the other side of the stream. From the way he pointed I knew he meant for me to go to the clearing about a hundred feet into the woods. An old birch tree had fallen in the clearing, and I'd had to strip and lay across that log many times before.

Uncle Tim lectured me and told me to get my pants and underpants down to my ankles and pull my shirt up under my armpits. He lectured me some more, making me answer his questions before he pulled off his belt and told me to turn around and get over the log. He told me to get my butt further up so he could aim at the bottom of my cheeks real good. Then he proceeded to land 10 good, hard ones right over the top of my legs, where my butt's most tender. Uncle Tim always lands 10. Sometimes hard, sometimes not. But always 10. Well, almost always.

Whenever Uncle Tim has to whip my ass, he always tells Dad he had to take care of me. He tells me I am Dad's boy and Dad has a right to know. He'll tell Dad what I did and where I got it and how he gave it to me. Whenever I make Uncle Tim punish me, I know Dad is going to make sure I learned my lesson right.

It was at the dinner table Uncle Tim told Dad about my horsing around. Uncle Tim and Dad often talked about my whippings or my need for one at the dinner table. Dad listened while Uncle Tim told about me squirming and begging him to quit, and how I tried to get him not to mention it to Dad. Dad listened. Then he told me that when we finished dinner I was to get my ass out to the Strip Room and take off everything except my underpants. He changed the subject and did not mention it again until Uncle Tim cleared the last plate. Then he told me it was "time." As I opened the kitchen door, he told me he'd be there in 10 minutes.

That was a pretty uncomfortable 10 minutes. It was the first time I'd been alone, in my jockey shorts, waiting for a butt blistering. I didn't know what to do, and just kind of sat there, feeling the humid air and listening to the evening bugs. It seemed like forever before I heard Uncle and Dad's footsteps coming down the gravel drive from the house. Then it seemed like it had only been seconds.

Dad walked into the room while Uncle watched from the door. Dad had taken off his dinner shirt and was wearing his jeans and undershirt, the tank top kind he always wore on hot evenings. He told me I knew what was coming and why. He told me this wasn't going to be a strapping to teach me better in the future—that I'd had lots of chances to learn not to horse around when there was work to do. He told me this was going to be a punishment whipping. That I knew better and deserved to be punished.

Dad only gets after my ass three ways: lesson whippings, to get my attention so I'll learn better for next time; punishment beatings when I've done something I should have known I couldn't get away with; and switchings. I've only had two switchings, and I don't plan on getting any more.

Dad went down to the far end of the room and got the Big Strop off the wall. It's three inches wide and 20 inches long, with a sturdy handle. A neighbor makes tack, and Dad had him make the Big Strop when I dented the car with a rock. It's only a single thickness of cowhide. But with that handle, Dad can land it real flat and with lots of power.

"Your ass and legs are in trouble, boy. But your back is going to lead the way." My gut got that empty feeling and my butt kind of gave way. That feeling always reminds me of the times I get all backed up and Dad has to give me an enema. "Get out of the garage, boy. We're going to lay you out on the workbench."

I'd taken it on the workbench before, and all the way to the garage, with nothing on but my underpants, I remembered it. I begged Dad not to whip me, that I'd remember, and that I'd just been playing in the stream for a second. That Uncle had already punished me. They both walked behind me, telling me how my ass hadn't learned anything yet and that if Uncle has to teach me a lesson, I can damn well know that Dad's going to be sure I learn it good. Uncle reminded Dad how much he'd had to tell me to hold my ass still and how I hadn't taken my pants down as soon as I'd been told. How I'd put my hands on my ass and acted like he didn't have the right to whip my butt when I needed it. Dad kept telling me my ass was in more trouble than I knew.

By the time we got to the garage, I was sweating like a stuck pig. Sweat was running in streams down my sides from my armpits, and my bare legs were rubbing slick against each other. They closed the door behind us, and Dad told me to get my ass over to the workbench and to lay on my stomach in the middle of it. I laid my torso on it and swung my legs up one at a time, adjusting myself into the center of the planks.

The bench was solid and oily, rubbed slick and uneven from years of fixing cars and equipment. I had a bit of time to settle in and grab the far end of the bench. All the while I begged Dad not to leather me. He didn't say anything, just took hold of both sides of my underpants and pulled them off my butt and down my legs and off my feet. I was bare-assed naked laying on the workbench. Uncle Tim was watching from where he sat on the hood of the car. Dad dropped my jockeys and flipped the strop between his hands.

"I've been thinkin' you're about ready for a good punishment beating, boy," Dad said. "It's not just horsing around today. That's just the latest way you've proven it to me. It's your whole attitude this last couple of weeks. Now you're going to get it good, boy. Real good. As good as you've ever had it. You need me to tie you down for it?"

I told him I thought I could take it, to please not tie me down. I fixed my grip. I knew I didn't want to put my hands back there once the whipping started.

"You hang on to the end of the bench there, boy. You know I'll take you out and switch you tomorrow if we have to stop and tie you down, don't you, boy?" Dad began to walk to the far end of the bench, stopping by my feet. "And if Uncle Tim has to hold you it'll be the same as us having to stop and tie you. You know it, don't you, boy?"

I didn't have an answer. The first stroke landed square up my back. I held on to the end of the workbench and started begging Dad not to give me a punishment whipping. By the time the words were out, the strop had landed three times on my back and I begged, "Dad—dad—please!" as the strop whipped my back again. Dad told me I was going to be punished good. I couldn't stand the pain any longer, but I didn't dare let go of the bench. The smell of the oil and the roughness of the bench top as I thrashed about on it were overwhelmed only by the stinging strop Dad dropped onto my back.

"Now, boy, we're going to make sure your butt and the back of your legs know we mean business as well. You hold 'em still, boy. I better not have to go chasing them. You had your chance to be tied down." Dad paused a half a minute or so. "Now, tell me why you're being punished."

"I was horsing around in the stream, Dad."

"And what were you supposed to be doing?"

"Weeding the garden, Dad."

The first stroke caught me right where Uncle Tim had whipped me. It was the tender bottom part of my butt. After Uncle Tim's whipping that afternoon, it was more sensitive than ever. Dad gave the first stroke just enough time to sink in before he landed another in the same spot. Then he put one across the middle of my ass and another across the middle of my thighs.

"Now, boy, between those spots on your ass cheeks and your legs, we're going to make sure every inch of you knows you've been punished good."

He took his time, pausing just long enough between strokes so I fully suffered the pain, but not long enough for me to catch my breath. I pleaded with him not to leather my ass any more, but he told me to keep my ass where it belonged or he'd make this seem like a picnic. The hard bench held me as I writhed, trying to keep from falling off. I knew I'd have to pay with the switch if I got off the bench. My sweat was a slick pool under me on the oily bench. My butt crack was slick with sweat as I tried to move my ass cheeks to deflect the strop. But it landed again and again, stinging my ass and burning my legs, and about every other stroke landed on the tender bottom part of my ass. All the while Dad told me I should remember my punishment whipping and see to it that I never earned another one.

He stopped and gave me a full minute to catch my breath and quit writhing. "Now turn your butt around, boy. We're going to give you 10 to even up the other side of your ass."

It was awkward turning around stark naked in front of Uncle and Dad, my dick and balls flopping around for them to see. My butt and back fresh-leathered. On the narrow workbench it was embarrassing, having to get on my knees and turn around and lay back down for more.

Dad was true to his word. He evened the other side of my ass cheeks and legs real good. When it was over, Dad told me to get off the bench and put my underpants back on. He asked if I'd been punished for what I'd done or if I needed more. When I assured him I'd absolutely been punished, he told me to get back to the Strip Room. Once we got there he told me to sit on the bench. As I squirmed on the hard bench, he told me again that he was not going to take any more bad behavior from me, and there was lots more where that came from. Finally, he and Uncle Tim left me alone to think about my leathering.

About a half hour later I heard Dad call me from the house to get dressed and come back home. As usual, they treated me as if everything was fine, and we laughed and enjoyed one another until bedtime. They especially enjoyed teasing me about how I wasn't sitting very still during our game of pinochle. "What's that bid again, boy? You were moving so much there was a Doppler shift and I couldn't make it out."

Very funny. I hated the Strip Room and vowed to never submit to another humiliating session of corporal punishment there.

The first time I beat off in the Strip Room was the first time Dad sent me to it with orders to strip bare-assed naked. He found out I was late for my job. He said I needed to learn better so I wouldn't be late again and end up without work. He said he knew just how to get my attention so I'd be sure and learn—a line I'd heard many times before. Dad always got my attention by bending my bare butt over and landing a paddle or strap or belt on it 10 times. Often as not, he'd decide I needed five more to be sure I was paying attention to my lesson. So when he told me to get to the Strip Room and take off every bit of anything I had on, I knew my butt was going to be up in the air for a lesson whipping.

He told me I had a half hour to think about it before he came to get me. The problem was, I'd been so fuckin' horny for about a week, my hard dick was about all I could think about. I'd been wearing my sheets out rubbing on my bed. There isn't much to do for a half hour, sitting in that little room naked. Even knowing my butt was going to get it, it wasn't long before I was thinking about my dick. It was hot in there, and it smelled of the barn and hay and coal. Before long, I was rubbing my sweaty body, and my hands just naturally found my balls and my dick.

Fuck, man, I threw such a boner it felt like maybe there really was a bone in there. I knew I didn't want Dad to find me with a hard-on. I tried to keep my hands off my eager shaft and red, oozing knob. I grabbed onto the edge of the bench. But pretty soon I was rubbing my ass on the hard bench, and my hands were back, pulling on my balls and stroking my horn dog. Fuck, I was so horny! I even stood up and humped one of the planks in the wall, trying to force my stiff tool through a knothole that was way too small. I stopped myself and sat back on the bench, but the bad-dog heat got me again, and I found myself rubbing my dick and balls along the edge of the bench. I turned around and sat on the bench, knowing Dad would come and get me soon.

That's when I saw the strop hanging on the far wall. The Big Strop. I hated that evil fucking thing. But my dick and balls were so horny to rub against something, I couldn't stand it. I immediately thought how I could use that strop to ease my pain. After all the pain it had caused me, it seemed only fair. I walked over and took the Big Strop off the wall, then wedged my right foot about waist-high on the wall. This left my crotch spread wide open. I dangled the strop against my dick with my right hand. With my left hand I reached around, under my butt, and grabbed the far end of the strop, which I pulled up, under my dick and balls.

Man, they were horny for a ride. I immediately started rubbing my balls on that strop, pulling rhythmically while my balls and dick thrust against the leather. My eyes were closed and my head was thrown back when I started slapping the strop, pulling it tight against my thrusting crotch and telling my dick it couldn't get enough, easing the strop back with both hands and slapping it back on my balls and dick.

They couldn't get enough. I was blind stupid stuttering hard. I rode that bucking strop hard and felt it rough against my ass crack. I started to feel the swelling up in my balls and my gut. Oh, fuck, man. Ride that fucker. Ride that fucker. I thrust. My leg came down from the wall and I was clinching the strop between my legs while pulling it through my crotch, hard against my balls. The swelling was taking me over and my breathing became one long, held breath. Then another. I pushed my crotch against the strop and opened my mouth to expel the last breath of lust and the first moan of orgasm. The swelling in my balls just had to be released.

The pressure between my legs forced my eyes open. Dad was standing in the doorway looking at me.

The breath stayed in my lungs.

The swelling stayed in my balls.

I didn't move.

He said nothing. Just stood there looking at me. Then he put out his hand. I put the Big Strop in it.

That was perhaps the most uncomfortable lesson whipping of my life. Not because of Dad. He leathered me like any other lesson whipping I'd ever had. He didn't even mention how he'd found me in the Strip Room. In fact, he didn't say anything, which was real strange. Usually he talked a lot about what my ass was going to get and where my ass was going to get it and why my ass deserved it. This time, his being so quiet left me off guard.

With the hand holding the strop, he motioned me to get out of the Strip Room into the barn. Then he motioned toward the sheep mangers, one of his favorite places for stropping me. I went to the end one. I knew he liked the last stall because he could stand next to it, parallel to the rail I'd be bent over, so he could squarely land the strop. Without saying anything, I bent over the edge of the manger wall, with my legs a bit off the floor. It was very uncomfortable. A lot of times Dad didn't insist I put my hands on the floor, but I wasn't taking chances on pissing him off more. And I knew he liked the way it exposed the underside of my butt cheeks for the strop.

I knew the second I was in position I had a problem with my balls. They were squeezed against the top of the manger wall. But now I realized they were also blue with cum. And I mean blue like a cottage in Maine. Fucking blue like fucking King Tut's fucking turquoise necklace. I mean fucking blue balls, man. They hurt so bad I had to stand bowlegged to keep from touching them. And here they were smashed against the top of this board, my full weight hanging on them. Waiting for an ass strapping that was sure to make me dance around them.

Uncle Tim said he'd heard of boys who like getting leathered, that it turned them on. He said maybe I was one of those boys and maybe it would do me good to get whipped hard enough so I'd never want to think of getting whipped again.

My nuts still ache when I think about that lesson whipping.

Dad's strapping did get me dancing, too. He walked over and didn't say a word. Just landed that strop 10 hard ones, every one right at the top of my legs and the bottom of my butt. Fuck, that hurt, man. Fuck, I danced, man. Fuck, my balls ached.

Dad finally said something. "You learned about being late for work, boy?"

I assured him I had, and he told me he thought I needed more attention to my lesson. I wasn't surprised when he delivered another five, and I wasn't even surprised when they were hard, more like the kind he gives me for punishment beatings.

He laid the strop down next to me. "Tomorrow we'll talk about this other thing, boy. I send you to the Strip Room to think and learn, not to be playing with yourself. When I leave, get back in the Strip Room and sit your bare butt on that bench. Don't you move until I call you up to the house. Then you get dressed and get your ass to the house pronto."

I was still hanging on my balls, sore butt in the air, as Dad left the barn. At the door, he told me I better keep my hands off myself while I was waiting for his call.

It was hot in the Strip Room, and my butt felt every square inch of that hard bench under my ass. I didn't know your balls could hurt so much and still shoot a wad. But they can. I was pretty sure I'd be getting a licking for beating off in the Strip Room.

Dad had caught me jacking off in my bed before. The first time, he came in to get me up and when I didn't respond, he yanked the covers back. There I was with my pajama bottoms pulled down to my knees and a hard-on bouncing around. He went to the wall and got the Ping-Pong paddle and came back to the bed. I had rolled onto my stomach to hide my dick, and he proceeded to paddle my butt bright red. That paddle stung like hell. Still does. He's left it in my room ever since, just in case we need it for another emergency. He told me that now he knew I was the kind of boy who plays with himself, he'd be checking on me. And every once in a while he catches me. That paddle was not brought to the Strip Room with the others.

This time, I was not only whacking my meat, I was violating the purpose of the Strip Room and disobeying orders as well.

I was pretty sure I had a licking coming. Several times during the day Uncle Tim mentioned my ass was in trouble when Dad got home from framing buildings.

I was playing in the yard when Dad got home, and he told me to follow him to the house. He was dressed in one of the white tank top undershirts he likes, always a size too small so they fit real tight. Dirt was on his tight jeans, and his steel-toed boots were covered with mud from the construction site. Sweat glistened on the back of his big arms, tan and accented with black hair, as he walked in front of me.

When we got to the porch he called Uncle Tim out, and we all sat on the chairs out there. Dad asked Uncle Tim what he thought about a boy who'd been sent to get stripped for a whipping and ended up using the strop to play with himself.

Uncle Tim said he'd heard of boys who like getting leathered, that it turned them on. He said maybe I was one of those boys and maybe it would do me good to get whipped hard enough so I'd never want to think of getting whipped again. "We don't want him growing up to be a weirdo," he said.

I assured Dad I didn't get turned on because he was going to leather me. "That's crazy, man. Who'd like that?" I assured him I was just horny. I needed something to rub against, and I just happened to think of the strop. I even told Dad I'd understand if he paddled me for playing with myself, but I didn't need to be taught about getting turned on by a leathering. "It hurts when you leather my back or my legs or my ass, Dad. I don't get turned on by that at all."

Dad rocked for a bit, looking out at the drive. Then he stopped and took a deep breath and said he thought Uncle Tim was right. "Since you seem to like riding the leather so much, we're going to give you a ride you won't forget. You need to get out to the Strip Room, boy. Since you won't leave yourself alone when you're buck naked, strip down to your jockey shorts. Put your shoes back on and sit there and wait for us. It won't be long. And you better not have a hard-on when I get there, boy. I'll be checking. In fact, I'll be checking your dick before every whipping. Now get your butt down there, boy."

I knew better than to argue or even hesitate.

I was stripped and sitting on the bench about five minutes when I heard Dad and Uncle Tim walking down the drive to the barn. Again Dad came into the Strip Room while Uncle Tim stood in the door. Dad immediately came over to me, pulled my underpants away from my body, and took a good look at my dick. It's always kind of big, but it wasn't hard. He flicked it once with his finger to make sure it wasn't hard, then let my jockeys snap back in place.

Uncle Tim spoke from the doorway. "Your butt's in trouble, boy."

Dad walked past him to the far wall and got the handle strap. It's only 10 inches long and three inches wide. But it's made of real heavy leather. Real stiff. And it has a sturdy handle on it. Dad says he likes it because it gives him absolute control of where the strap's going to do its business when my ass "needs some real good fine tuning."

He told me I had my shoes on because we were going to take a walk in the woods, out to the fallen birch. I led the way. In nothing but my underpants and shoes, I walked past the garden, through the pasture, and over the stream. I felt real exposed to everything and was almost glad to get to the woods, like they offered some privacy. We walked to the fallen birch and I stood beside it. I didn't turn around, just stood there facing the dead tree and waiting for Dad's instruction.

"First, boy, I'm going to leather you for playing with your dick. I thought the paddlings in your bed had taught you better. Now lay on your stomach across that log, boy. And put your hands on the ground on the other side."

This left my back rounded down the far side of the log. My crotch was not even on the log and I had to bend my knees and put my feet on the ground to keep from having my ass in the air. I heard Dad's belt rattle as he undid the buckle. I heard the leather being pulled from the denim loops. He stood with his feet on either side of my ankles and held my feet together with his feet. Then he landed the belt.

Because my back was bent down, the belt had a little extra time to pick up some momentum. It practically curled up my back, the far end snapping on my right shoulder like an exclamation point on a sentence. "So the paddle doesn't do it, huh?" The belt landed on my left shoulder. "My boy wants to play with his cock, huh?" The leather curled again. "Just too horny, huh?"

The more Dad talked, the more he talked himself into a harder beating. The belt landed over and over, welting my back and welting the welts. He told me to leave my dick alone, and Uncle Tim reminded him I'd promised that before when I was under the paddle. I was beginning to wonder if the leathering was ever going to end, when he quit. He let me think about it for a bit before he released my feet from his grip.

He stepped back and told me to get up. "Your ass seemed to like riding leather in the Strip Room, boy. Since it likes it so much, I figure your ass deserves to go for a real good ride on some leather."

As I stood, stiff from the belting, I protested and begged a little, but not much. I faced Dad, and he told me to take off my underpants. I pulled them over my ass and let them drop to my feet. I stepped out of them and left them on the ground. Buck-assed naked, I faced him again.

He told me to beat off "since you like to play with it so much. You're going to get to play with your dick while you go on a real fun leather ride."

My cock wasn't hard at all, but I began stroking as hard and fast as I could. I sure didn't want my dad any more pissed off. It was hard to get it up, being welted like I was in front of Dad and Uncle Tim, and scared shitless. But I kept pulling at it while Dad told me to get that dick hard, that I seemed to like it and I was going to be learning some lessons about the kind of trouble my dick could get me into. Finally it did start to get that old feeling and swelled in my hand.

I was beating my meat with my right hand, and Dad grabbed me by the left arm. He landed his belt on my ass and told me my butt would know exactly why it was getting this belt. He landed the belt on my legs and told me my hard-on was exactly why my butt was getting belted, and my beating it off was more than enough reason to be whipped. He was landing the belt faster and faster, telling me I obviously liked to ride leather and that I was riding leather like I'd never ridden it. He seemed to know just when to land the belt and just when to let me beat off for a few seconds. He took me for a ride on that leather belt, and before I knew it I was shooting my load all over the birch log. He landed the strap a couple times as I came, and it felt like I'd come all over the entire woods.

"Now, boy, you feel all emptied out? Did we take care of that horny problem you had, boy?"

I said I felt like my whole insides were spewed out through my dick and that my sore back and ass were the only things left.

"Good. Then the ride I'm going to give your crotch on the handle strap will be most effective. Get your butt over the log."

I didn't know what he meant, but I was too empty and sore and tired to protest. I got on my knees, and again I felt bark under me. This time it was slick with my cum and sweat. Dad told me to spread my cheeks, and I protested. "Oh, man, Dad—I've had enough—please!" But my hands reached behind me and feebly pulled my cheeks apart.

"Your crotch was enjoying a ride on leather in the Strip Room, wasn't it, boy?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, it's riding again." He kicked my legs apart and told me to keep them spread wide. As he straddled the log, sitting beside me, he told me to reach farther down my butt, down to the bottom part, and to get a good hold. A real good hold. "Now spread that butt so far open you think you're going to rip it apart." He landed the handle strap on the tender skin beside my hole and told me to spread it more open and to get my legs spread apart where they belonged.

"Your crotch wants to ride some leather, boy. Your crotch is going to get to ride some leather. You let go and your crotch will be riding a switch. You got that, boy?"

I was drained the way you are when you've come. And the way you are when you've been whipped hard. Even so, I grabbed onto the bottom of my ass and spread it as hard as I could. Once the leathering started, it was all I could do. I immediately forgot how drained I was. All that skin in there was tender. Not to mention my butt hole or the underside of my crotch, between my legs. Dad never touched my balls with that little, stiff, nasty leather strap. But he sure took my crotch on a ride I'll never forget.

Neither Dad nor Uncle Tim has never caught me playing with myself in the Strip Room again. In fact, Uncle Tim has commented on how riding that leather seemed to help my disposition a great deal. He says they should have thought of it before. He's observed I am much more willing to help out. He even appreciates my taking the initiative about cleaning the barn.

It's true. From the time my crotch rode that handle strap, I've made sure the gravel in front of the barn stays fresh and raked. And real crunchy. No matter how horny I am, I listen real good. I always have time to get the strop back on the wall and my pants up and a broom in my hand before they get to the barn door and find me cleaning up. Again. ■
